The Process of Forgiveness

"The Process of Forgiveness is the most intimate, the most important, and the most loving manifestation of our Christian commitment. Very often it is neglected, not because of bad faith or unwillingness, but simply because of ignorance. We can be taught the process of forgiveness."

• The Retreat

Fr. William Meninger returns to Tallahassee to present a weekend retreat on Forgiveness, based on his best-selling book "The Process of Forgiveness." "Christianity is not the only religion to command forgiveness. It is at the heart of every significant religious, philosophical, ethical, psychological or even political construct." Fr. William will talk with us about how we have most likely forgiven many times, yet we often re-experience the hurt we have been trying to forget. Our lives and relationships are affected.

How do we forgive? How do we move beyond the hurts and take them to God?

This weekend retreat will offer hope and help as we learn to forgive and begin to "live in the wholesome world of your own making. It is not a world without pain, but the pain can be redemptive. It is not a world without sorrow, but know that sorrow is not an evil but a proof of love."

• Fr. William Meninger

Father William was born, raised and educated in the Boston area in Massachusetts. His mother was born and raised in County Kerry and his father was a Quaker from Pennsylvania.

Father William Meninger

Ordained in 1958, after 8 years in St. John's Seminary, he was incardinated into the Diocese of Yakima, Washington where he worked on an Indian Reservation and with Mexican traveling workers for 6 years. In 1963 he entered the Trappists at St. Joseph's Abbey in Spencer, Massachusetts, where he served in the guest house for 15 years. There he taught Scripture, liturgy and patristics and served as prior and dean of the junior professed monks.

In 1979 he was transferred to a daughter house, St. Benedict's Monastery in Snowmass, Colorado, where he served as Prior, vocation director, novice master, and teacher of theology and scripture. He spent 3 years in Israel where he studied scripture and taught at the Center for Biblical Studies in Jerusalem and at the Trappist Monastery of Latroun.

He also did graduate studies at Seattle University, Harvard Divinity School, and Boston University. In 1974 he originated the workshop on Contemplative Meditation (later known as Centering Prayer) which he now teaches worldwide along with workshops on Forgiveness, the Enneagram, Sacred Scriptures, and Prayer. He leaves the monastery only 4 times each year to do this lest he lose his own monastic orientation while sharing it with others.
